Sensational Review by the Press in France.

LE TEMPS.

The ELIXIR GODINEAU is now constantly talked of by the press, it is the constant subject of their articles and the talk of town and country: it is a first class strengthening and restoring tonic of miraculous power.

L'AUTORITE.

The marvellous properties of the FLIXIR GODINEAU having been duly proved by various experiments, this powerful specific is now universally recommended as the best remedy against anaemia, tuberculosis and all cases of exhaustion of the organic system in general.

LE FIGARO.

To make gold, and find out the secret of ever-lasting youth; such were the two problems which alchemists had tried to solve. The progress of science has shown the uselessness of the first, but it facilitated, on the other hand, the working out of the second.

Following out the eminent professor's theories a Paris chemist of high standing with the assistance of eminent practitioners, has prepared the Elixir bearing his name the ELIXIR GODINEAU the effects of which are surprising.

LE MOT D'ORDRE.

Several truly marvellous cures effected by the ELIXIR GODINEAU and which have been echoed far and wide, save given this specific universal popularity. Hence forth anaemia, rachitis, paralysis, senile degeneration will cease to exist. The ELIXIR GODINEAU rapidly, suppresses all these affections produced by partial or general exhaustion of the organic system.

L'EVENEMENT.

The fairy tale of the fountain of youth is now a true and real fact; old age still scatters a few wrinkles on the face, a few snowy flakes in the hair, but it can no longer chill the hearts of men to whom the high-mettled spiritness of a youth of twenty years of age, is restored by the ELIXIR GODINEAU, one of the valuable conquests of modern science.

L'ECHO DE PARIS.

The great success of the ELIXIR GODINEAU increases from day to-day, and is fully justified. This powerful specific restores health and vigor every day to numberless invalids whose cure was despaired of All weakened or debilitated organic systems are speedily strengthened after treatment with the ELIXIR GODINEAU, the effect of which is as sure as it is rapid. ### DR. S. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR
"DIABETES SPECIALIST."

RARE AND INVALUABLE SERVICE FOR THE CURE OF "DIABETES."

The following are taken out of the numerous certificates received:—

Mr. Kanyalal Badridas, Cotton Merchant, Bombay, writes:—"I was suffering from 'Diabetes' for the last 12 years. Commenced Dr. Iyengar's treatment. My urine was examined by the Bombay Municipal Analyst, S. P. Gr. being 1037 and Sugar 5-62 per cent. After treatment and on my urine being examined by the same Municipal Analyst and by Dr. N. H. Clubwalla, M.D., B.Hy. (Bom.), at Dr. Masina Hospital and Pathological Laboratory 'Sugar was found NIL' and S. P. Gr. 1013."

Mr. Bhailal V. Kothari, B.A., LL.B., late Vakil, High Court, Bombay, Nayab Dewan of Devgod Baria writes:—"I was suffering from Diabetes for over 4 years and had tried many well-known Doctors of Bombay, but without any effect. I then put myself under the treatment of Dr. S. R. Iyengar and he prescribed a course of 7 complete weeks for me. As each week progressed, the disease that could not at all be controlled before, began to abate with the result that I was completely cured at the end of the course in such a marvellous way that I can very well say that Dr. Iyengar is not a Diabetes Specialist in name, but a Specialist INDEED IN REALITY. My S. P. Gr. was 1038 in the beginning of the course came down to 1015 at the end and grains of Sugar per ounce of Urine fell down from 24 to 'NIL', while dediments were not at all visible."

Mr. N. K. Karode, Chemical Analyser, Junagadh State, writes:—"I am glad to certify that Dr. S. Rangaswami Iyengar treated Rao Bahadur Keshavlal G. Trivedi, Chief Revenue Officer, Junagadh State (Now, Deputy Political Agent Mahikantha, for Diabetes and effected cure in the course of about six weeks. At the commencement of the treatment, the S. P. Gr. of his urine was 1038 and it graduallly fell to 1015 and accordingly the quantity of Sugar also decreased and came down almost normal. Dr. S. R. Iyengar's treatment seems to consist of native drugs and the effect is marvellous. I am of opinion that anybody suffering from this disease should take benefit of Dr. Iyengar's treatment."

Ethel M. Dell's surprising Story of Anglo-Indian Life

The Simla Hills of Kipling immortalised on the screen.

Norma Talmadge a most delightful role in the "Safety Curtain" one in which her emotions are allowed to run riot and where she is all in a breadth a veritable little spit-fire and a sacred submissive child. As Puck the music hall dancer, she fairly twinkles through the entire 6 reels—She is exquisitely active—adorably pressive—and very much in evidence. Add to this lure a story (quite an interesting story) which has been finely mounted with convincing scenes of sun-baked India and you have "The Safety Curtain,"

MILL STORES

July 8.

Cotton Healds have a number of enquiries from local consumers and the prices have been maintained at Rs. 3-4-0 to Rs. 3-8-0 per 800 eyes. Home offers have been steady and are fluctuating between 44 and 50 d. A slight reduction however, has been evident in Home quotations. Reeds practically have little demand again, and the market kept dull.

Oldham and Kenion Bandings have poor demand, and large consignments have arrived; weak holders are eager to dispose off their stocks. The current rate ruling in the market is largely varying from Rs. 1-7-0 to Rs. 1-12-0 per lb. Woolen goods are comparatively higher in prices owing to slight scarcity in the market.

Leather sundries have fair enquiry still, the demand has not overtaken the supply. Picking Bands have been quoted at Rs. 2-10-0 per lb., whereas, better quality picking bands are much higher. Roller skins are dull.

Quotations:—

Healds, Rs. 3-7-0; Reeds, Rs. 0-5-0; Roller skins Eng. Rs. 85/120; Roller Cloth K Rs. 11/12; Picking Bands, Rs. 2-12-0; Pickers No. 4, Rs. 75/95; Shubbing (Jap) Rs. 40/43; Rowings (Jap) Rs. 35/38; Ring-Rabbeth 5in. Eva (Jap), Rs. 13; Cyl and Do Fillets, Rs. 1-8-0.

CHEMICAL MARKET.

July 8.

No material changes have been recorded in chemicals market. Demand has been rather poor. Heavy chemicals have been comparatively ruling easy, owing to the influx of German chemicals in the market. The chief among the German chemicals imported in the market are Bleaching, Sodium, Magnesium-Chloride, Epsom Salt, Zinc Chloride Bichromate of soda and Potash. Bleaching-Powder had been sold very cheap in comparison to the U. A. English quality, as, German stuff is rather inferior to the English.

Caustic soda is steady. Magnesium chloride is in general ruling high. Sizing starches are steady. Sago is quoted at Rs. 13-8-0 Farina K in last week was rather dull with a slight shrinkage in rate, but the market again has slightly improved by a rupee per Cwt.

Quotations:—

Sodium-Sulphide U. A. Rs. 35; Sodium-Sulphide (Ger), Rs. 31, Zinc Chloride, Rs. 68; Bichromate of Soda, Rs. 62; Bichromate Potash, Rs. 90; Magnesium Chloride, Rs. 12/13; Aniline Salt, Rs. 1-4-0; Antimony Salt Rs. 2-0-0 Epsom Salt, Rs. 9-8-0; Glauber Salt Rs. 8; Farina K. Rs. 25; Cago flower Rs. 13/8; Maize Stoch Pearl, Rs. 27.

ASTHMA

RADICAL AND SURRE CURE

OF 24 YEARS FAME ALL OVER THE WORLD.

The "Amrita Bazar Patrika," Sunday, July 2, 1899.

ASTHMA CURE

TO THE EDITOR,

Sir,—It will be glad tidings to Asthma patients to hear that they can obtain immunity from their terrible sufferings by trying a simple asthma cure which has come to my knowledge. Babu J. P. Ray is a discoverer of this specific. He is a charitable man and distributes medicine "gratis." A good many persons afflicted with this fell disease in Benares have been radically cured by using his medicine. There are a good many prescriptions which give relief from Asthma temporarily, but there is perhaps no recognised medicine which cures it. The suffering world should, therefore, hail with delight the appearance of a medicine of this kind, Babu J. P. Ray has got a pamphlet printed which gives a description of his treatment and the names of men who have benefited by its use and where it is available to the public. This is a marvellous remedy and I would strongly recommend the sufferers from Asthma to make application to the Babu at Durga Kund Road. Benares City.

Correspondent S. M. L.

NOTE—J. P. Ray is alive. This is the best time for taking the specific.

Present address:—

J. P. RAY, K. P. RAY, 5, Benares City.

THIRD TEST MATCH.

THIRD DAY'S PLAY.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL SERVICE.)

LONDON, July 5.
Recd. 10-30 a.m. July 8.

Sunny weather prevailed and seven thousand people were present when the Third Test match entered upon its concluding stages to-day. The wicket was in good condition. Owing to the fact that his wife had to undergo an operation for appendicitis, Douglas was not fielding. The overnight "not outs" Andrews and Carter opened briskly and the runs came easily. Andrews hit eight fours in his 92. Carter played an unorthodox cricket for his 47 and was distinctly lucky. White again bowled well and English fielding was good. Brown was crippling with injured thigh. He, however, repeated his batting success of the first innings and scored 46 by a nice cricket, being at the wicket fifty-five minutes. Woolley also played excellently, while both Jupp and Tennyson gave vigorous displays.

Bowling for England Douglas had no wickets for 58 White three for 37 Jupp two for 45, Parkin one for 91 and Woolley one for 45.

Bowling for the Australians Gregory had two wickets for 58, McDonald two for 67, Mailey three for 71 and Armstrong two for 6.

FOOTBALL IN BOMBAY.

EMBARKATION VERSUS G. I. P. INSTITUTE.

The ground was again soft and the ball like a lump of lead when the abovenamed teams met on the Cooperage.

The standard of play was consequently poor and an audible sigh of relief went round when Mr. Harwood blew the full time whistle leaving the score:—

Embarkation ..... two goals.
G. I. P. Institute. ..... one goal.

BRIGADE STAFF V. EMBARKATION.

The match between the Embarkation and the Brigade Staff on Wednesday which resulted in a win for the latter by four goals to one, was rather dull at the outset but quite entertaining towards the end.

The result was rather in the nature of a surprise. The Brigade Staff played well together and were well worthy their win.

POLICE PRECAUTIONS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CALCUTTA, July 6.

The trial of the Khilafat preacher, Mr. Rahman, who is being tried at the Alipore jail on a charge of sedition for delivering a speech in the suburbs of Calcutta, containing words and expressions likely to bring Government into hatred, was fixed for to-day. The police took every possible precaution to prevent a breach of the peace as it was apprehended mill-hands from Howrah and the neighbourhoo of Calcutta of force. To prevent the ingress of Howrah mill-hands, the authorities kept the bridge over the river open from the early morning until ten so that all traino over the bridge was stopped. A few ferry-steamers were plying in the morning.

Inspite of every possible precaution, an enormous crowd composed of Hindus and Mahomedans including the Khilafat and Congress volunteers collected outside the jail where the accused was and where the trial was fixed to be held.

The Calcutta Light Horse and the Bengal Armed Police were out at Alipore this morning. Armed police were in readiness at the Lal Bazar Central Police Station, and a fleet of taxis numbering between thirty and forty were commandeered and kept ready in the police compound. Forces in every thana in Calcutta and Alipore were warned to be in readiness if required. The 31st Punjabis were asked to be ready in Alipore lines, up to two in the afternoon. # DITCHER & SAVARKAR BROS.

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—It is long since "Ditcher" told a novel story about the Savarkar Brothers in his "Diary" published in "The Capital" of the 20th May, 1921. The story is much discussed in the Press and more so in private. I owe the public a statement regarding the allegation against my brothers—or more correctly, one of my brothers—and many friends very kindly asked me whether I would reply the serious charges. I had not the least doubt in my mind about the innocence of my brothers, but I thought it better to wait and try to collect as much material as is possible to disprove the mischievous allegation and convince the public about the total falsehood of "Ditcher's" statement. I am sure that the public will realize my difficulties and excuse me for the delay as I had to gather truth from obscure quarters and had to see my brothers themselves to know what they say. There are so many refusals, and denials and repetitions of requests to see political convicts in general, and the Savarkar brothers in particular, that great patience is required to go through all the technicalities of the prison discipline. All these long twelve years, my patience is tried and trained and so I could wait till I got permission to see my eldest brother, Ganesh Damodar Savarkar who is at present in the Bijapore jail. I need not mention here the whole of what he said to me and what he would do to chastise "Ditcher", as the public will soon know it. I may inform the public, however that my brother gave me a most emphatic denial to all the charges, and said for the last ten years together, they were not allowed to move about even in the prison; but were strictly confined singly in the cells. But apart from this, I place before the public my statements of facts from which they can easily judge the absurdity of the ingenious invention of "Ditcher" to damn the brothers whose release is earnestly demanded by the Indian people. This is the usual way of the bureaucrats to damn a certain individual or a cause, which they do not like, and then to destroy the same. Have we not seen the malicious story of an Afghan spy being introduced and systematically circulated, just to damn the Ali brothers whom the authorities wanted to bring into trouble somehow or other? In the same way, "Ditcher" seems to act on some inspiration, received from some quarters and goes on telling the story. The chief object of the writer seems plainly to explain away the Government's vindictive and indefensible policy in refusing to release the brothers. We shall examine "Ditcher's" statement, and the public may judge for themselves how far "Ditcher" has gone in fabricating false accusations.

He says: "Before the outbreak of the war, one of the Savarkar brothers, the elder, if I mistake not, have so ingratiated himself with the prison authorities, etc., falls to the ground.

The story of a German plot, narrated by 'Ditcher' in his diary is not a new one to those who have, read the "Rowlatt Report,' which is a laborious record of revolutionary activities in India and which has recorded all the attempts of that party during the war-time. 'Ditcher' has distorted and misnarrated the 'German Plot' to suit his present purposes. We shall presently see how he has tried to do this:

We find the story, distorted and misnarrated by 'Ditcher,' regarding the German plot, of capturing the Andamans and landing a shipload of rifles in the Sunderbuns to arm the rebels in India whom the Savarkar's friends on the mainland undertook to rally to the flag.

The Rowlatt Report devotes one whole chapter to the activities of the Germans under the heading 'German Plots in the Chapter VII. The reference to the Andamans is made in the last paragraph on 124 page. It says: "A third steamer, also a war bound German vessel, was to sail to the Andamans shipping a cargo of arms at sea and raid Port Blair, pick up anarchists convicts and men of the mutinous Singapore regiment, who it was thought were interned there and then proceed to Rangoon and raid it." This is the only reference to the Andamans in the whole of the Report, and all these plots of the Germans were being plotted with no Revolutionary in Bengal whose names and another details are recorded in the Report. No where we find the story of the wireless plant at Port Blair worked by one of the Savarkars and through which the Germans were invited.

What "Ditcher' has sought to do, is to replace the Bengali Revolutionaries names, by my brother's name, to serve his particulars purpose in writing his notes. But, a glance at the Rowlatt Report will convince the public about the clever attempt of "Ditcher' to narrate a perverted story as if it was quite a secret that had not seen the light of the day.

I can adduce further evidence also. When I twice visited the Andamans I had long interviews with the Commissioners of that place and they frankly admitted that the behaviour of both of my brothers, was excellent and they never had an occasion during these ten years to punish them for any break in the jail discipline. Who is more reliable "Ditcher' or the Chief Commissioners of the Andaman. I must however say that 'Ditcher'' has produced a lively 'bunch of a Romance,' as he puts it in his diary, which will amuse the people for a while but after a bit of thinking, they will throw away such a reckless statement as false and malicious.

In the end I may add that had there been any remotest connection of my brothers with German Plots, Sir William Vincent would not have failed to add this 'material' also, to all other things of old, which he so laboriously and vehemently mentioned against my brothers when the resolution for the release of them was brought up in the Council of State by the Hon. Mr. K. V. Rangaswami Ayangar. Moreover the whole story is inherently impossible as in spite of all the tall talk of racial equality of which we have recently heard so much, the Government is not likely to trust an Indian—not even Mr. Shastri or Jamnadas, the special pets of Sir William Vincent—with a wireless and that, too, in war time; much less will they over think of entrusting it to my brothers for whom Sir William has no excessive love! The readers may be informed here, that the administration of the Andamans is conducted in consultation and subordination to the Indian Government.

I have placed some of the facts before the public and I think, I have placed sufficient material before the public to drive out any suspicion in their mind caused by the malicious statements in "Ditcher's Diary."

Dear editor, I hope, you will publish this letter in your esteemed paper, as early as

MEDIUM OF INSTRUCTION.

THE PLACE OF VERNACULARS.

DISCUSSION IN THE SENATE.

A meeting of the Senate was held yesterday, Sir Chimanlal H. Setalwad presiding when the report of the Committee appointed to consider the recommendations of the Calcutta University Commission, was further discussed. It was decided at the last meeting of the Senate that they should decide in the first instance on the question of medium of instruction and postpone other questions about the constitution of the Senate, etc. At the outset there was a desultory discussion as to whether the intermediate education that was to be given should be taken up by the present colleges or by schools.

Dr. Mann then formally moved that the intermediate institutions mentioned in the resolutions should be normally a development of secondary schools, should be of a school character and should be termed intermediate high schools or higher secondary schools.

The Senate negatived it.

INSTRUCTION IN VERNACULAR.

Dr. A. G. Viegas then moved:—That the medium of instruction as well as of examinations in the secondary schools should generally be the vernacular, but such schools which wish to introduce English as the medium of instruction should be at liberty to do so.

This was passed unanimously.

INTERMEDIATE INSTRUCTION IN ENGLISH.

Dr. Viegas then moved that the medium of instruction and examination in the intermediate colleges should be English, subject to exceptions in para. 12 of the report. Dr. Viegas said that those who wanted to introduce vernaculars or Oriental languages should be at liberty to do so.

The exceptions (in para. 12) are:—(1) Any institution may have the option of giving instruction in the vernaculars. (2) In Oriental classical languages the medium of instruction may be at option the vernaculars, but that the medium of examination shall be both English and vernacular.

Prof. V. B. Naik then moved an amendment:—"That the medium of instruction as well as that of examination be English or the student's vernacular, at his option till the completion of the Intermediate College Course, in all subjects except Eng-

Mr. Naik said the boy who knew any one language well could easily acquire other languages and the English that was taught now in the schools, as a medium of instruction, was bad English. He asked the Senate in the name of sentiment and common sense to make vernacular the medium of instruction.

Principal Bhate, seconding, said the Sadler Commission had not the courage of their convictions when they stopped at the Matriculation. When a subject was taught through the medium of a vernacular, it was taught better and more easily. One of the greatest objections against the medium of instruction being English was that people in the mofussil said that the students could not learn what they required in their vernaculars, and therefore there was a sort of bias against Western education.

AN ADVOCATE OF ENGLISH.

Prof. Shahani moved another amendment:—That the medium of instruction as well as examination in intermediate colleges should be English, except in Oriental classical languages the medium of instruction may be both English and vernacular.

He said the proposal was very unpopular, but in spite of that in the interests of education he wanted to move it. University education would not be conducted on the right lines if English were not the medium of instruction in the colleges. They were imparting Western education and for that purpose the knowledge of English was absolutely necessary.

Mr. H. J. Bhabha, seconding, said if the direct method of teaching English were adopted by his Poona friends they would not have found great difficulty in teaching English.

AMENDMENTS THROWN OUT.

Mr. K. Natarajan said as long as the University was for teaching English they should have English as the medium of instruction. The bedrock of fact was that the present University was going to teach English and they should proceed on the right lines.

Both the amendments were thrown out and the original motion was passed.

The Senate then adjourned.

A NEW MADRAS MINISTER,

MADRAS, July 7.

A QUESTION ANSWERED,

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—In that hospitable journal, I mean the "Times of India" yesterday's date "One Disgusted" inquires whether Mr. Gandhi or members of his cabinet devote any time to spinning.

That 'One' need not be disgusted when the Mahatma says 'In every home there should be a Charkha, that must be worked upon at least four hours a day' and when not one but many a Charkha are being worked upon whole-time in his home—The Ashram.

As for the Mahatma himself let me assure 'One Disgusted' that he is constantly engaged in spinning that huge cotton ball in form of India's dependence into a fine fabric of true independence and that members of his cabinet are not wanting in helping him with all their might.—Yours etc.,

THINK OF THE POOR.

THE SALVATION ARMY.

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—In regard to the proposal to destroy Foreign Cloth, we beg to suggest that this be given to the poor Famine stricken people of Maharashtra and other parts of this Presidency who are in desperate need of clothing and it would be far more humane to let them have the benefit of unwanted stocks. The Salvation Army will gladly distribute such cloth to those in greatest need wherever its work is established in this Presidency and particularly in those very needy villages around Shevgaon and others in the Ahmednagar District. Bales of cloth can be sent to Colonel Stanley Ewens, The Salvation Army Headquarters, Morland Road, Byculla, Bombay.—Yours, etc.,

When the number of passengers exceeds 400 shelter sheds should be constructed as near as possible to the place where the passengers embark. The embarking and disembarking of the passengers before the steamer is anchored should be prohibited. Improvement of telegra, hic communication between the ports should be made where possible. A proportion of the cooking galleys should be reserved for Mahomedans. Upper decks if of iron should be sheeted with wood.

PACIFICATION OR PROVOCATION!

A City of London policeman, who had an Irish "rookery" included in his beat, thus explained his attitude towards its rather turbulent inmates: "They 're made different from what we are, and things we shouldn't notice kind of get on their nerves. I go up there of nights and find them fighting one another like a lot of wild cats. Don't think I go fo any of them. That's no good. Lots of our men do that, and cause real trouble. I just stroll up and ask them what it's all about, and when I 've got them all round me explaining I keep them there like that a bit until they are friends again. I never had to lay a hand on one of them." The wisdom of that truly British attitude towards alien folk the instinctive attitude of a man almost illiterate, has often struck us in our journey through the world. The Briton does not care to understand the psychology of peoples of a warmer blood and more mercurial nature than his own. He sees that things that he would never notice "kind of get on their nerves," and he is sorry for them as he would be for a lot of children. Sympathy without a psychological understanding is not the finest or profoundest sympathy; it is a little careless and contemptuous, perhaps, but it is better than none at all; and many Englishmen in Eastern lands possess it, particularly when they make their own acquaintance with the people of the country unhampered by the customs and traditions of a "Service."

In Egypt, in the early days of British rule, most of the high officials were men whose sole qualification was experience of life in Egypt; and in those days, if legality was occasionally at a discount, the good-humoured indulgence of the City of London policeman was noticeable in the conduct of affairs. And Egypt, still excited after a great nervous outbreak, was pacified. The men in power recognised that the people of the country were different from themselves, and made allowances accordingly. Those men had watched the Turkish rulers of the land at work and used their methods which differed from English official methods chiefly in this: that punishment did not invariably follow crime. There was an expedient called "Istilah" or peace-making which, in the case of rioting or tribal fighting, was reckoned far superior to punishment. Even after a trial had been held, and crimes had been proved to have been committed by any number of persons, the judge or high commissioner, if he thought fit, would sentence nobody, but proclaim a general amnesty; and that, strange and horrible though it must seem to Simla and Whitehall and modern Cairo, is often not only the most merciful but the most effective way of pacifying nervous people who in momentary madness, have committed deeds they never would have contemplated in cold blood. We could give at least a score of "modern instances" of such successful peacemaking in independent Turkish territory. Where British rule is organised into regular "services," one party or the other would have been punished with the utmost rigour of the law. When the original "advisers" and "inspectors," of Egypt whose only qualification had been their knowledge of the country gave place to an Egyptian Civil Service, legality became supreme, and geniality was nowhere. The new men, trained in England, looked on the Egyptians as a lower order of humanity who had to be kept up to English standards. They might have mellowed in the course of time had it not been that an Egyption service had meanwhile arisen which stood between them and the people, precisely as the Indian service does in India—men, who, from ambition to succeed in life, did everything to please their English masters and, as their work was judged entirely by results, were eager to provide results with very little scruples as to means employed. We remember a cause celebre in Egypt in which a whole village was the object of inquiry. Two or three Englishmen went there, but confined themselves to taking measurements and viewing sites. An Egyptai bey (in India it would have been an Indian Rao Bahadur) with a strong force of police arrived and laid his terror on the place. In Turkey, or in Egypt in old days, in such a case, where the crime of which the village had been guilty had been evidently a bit of temporary insanity, in other words, a bad attack of nerves, a man respected and beloved in the neighbourhood would have been sent to hold inquiry on the spot and collect evidence. He, with a little patience, would have learnt the truth, and recommended punishment or the reverse as he thought fit. We can recall two cases which were dealt with in that way, to the satisfaction of all parties by Shamli Nazim Pasha in the vilayet of Syria. The tyrannous police Bey and the force at his command created panic in the Egyptian village of our narrative with the natural result that every body lied. He had no difficulty in producing from the village some informers who denounced to him the delinquents, and soon he had the pleasure of presenting to his English masters a great army of accused. And they were tried by an Egyptian Court and variously sentenced, some to death. The whole affair went splendidly from the legal point of view; there was not a hitch from charge to execution; the Egyptian service did full credit to its English training in the brisk, methodical despatch of business. But unfortunately, after the executions and the other punishment it leaked out that the really guilty ones were still at large, and had never been included in the number of accused. And they are still at large, for aught we know, for the scandal was by then too great for Egypt's rulers to dare to underline it by a second trial. That little miscarriage of justice did more harm to the English reputation in Egypt than anything that ever happened there before or since. To such an extent is the reputation of the English ruler dependent on the conduct of his "native" coadjutors.

We tell this story, frankly, as a warning to the "rulers" of India against the folly of repressive measures against a nation in a state of nerves, whose need is sympathy, and the cruelty of entrusting the stage management of such repressive, or it may be punitive, measures to the Indian servants of the Government whose aim is always to please their masters with results by any means; men who have become the scourge and terror of the Indian people and who are, we think, the greatest danger to the peace of India at the present time. They are zealous servants, of course, but a too zealous servant has often earned his master an ill-name for tyranny. They are without the geniality either of the Englishman or the Asiatic, trained to be heartless in pursuit of certain ends. To think that Indians could look forward equally to being governed some day by these slaves of Government, without restraint—and that as the promise of the "Reforms," as many Indians see it—is insanity. Almost every day we hear of some fresh instance of men of this sort arousing the anger of the people by abuse of the non-cooperation movement followed by some stupid act of violence. If all the people happened to be genuine followers of Gandhi there would be no response to these insane aggressors, the dead would be buried and the wounded borne away without reprisals and it is du undoubtedly to Gandhi's influence that such a shower of provocation up and down the country has not produced a very large crop of disorders. That there are Englishmen here and there in Government service who think the Indian national movement could and should be crushed by force, we know; and it is natural that they should value such agents as the Indian underlings already mentioned. But the Government of India cannot be of their opinion, without belying all its late professions. In India's present nervous state, the C. I. D. and the small local tyrants of the police are, in their zealous service, far more dangerous than Gandhi, Muhammad, Shaukat and the rest of us all put together, and unless their activities under local English officials are strongly checked or suspended, they are pretty certain to bring shame on British Government in India in the eyes of every European outside India, not to speak of Asiatics who, of course, are negligible. The way of the London policeman is the best for Englishmen, because it is, or used to be, the English way.

INDIANS AND BANKING.

We understand that there are cartloads of applications arriving at the principal offices of the Imperial Bank from adult Indians of less than 25 years of age, for a career in that "truly national institution", to use the words of Mr. Hailey. Some months ago, Sir Bernard Hunter advertised in English papers for recruits to the national institution and Indian papers made a hubbub over the threat of nepotist dumping to the exclusion of Indians. The present advertisement for the training of Indians for service in the Bank is an appeal of pathetic cordiality which must neutralise the first impression. They want young Indians of good social standing in all parts of the country so that aspirants may come forward and be trained. No categorical qualifications are mentioned, and hundreds of young men are in excitement over the affair. For one accepted, hundreds will have to go disappointed, and we hope that for the few who are fortunate, special consideration will be shown during the period of training and that chota sahibs will be specially instructed to be tolerant. The experience of Indian young men under European superiors, who have to train them, has not been particularly happy. The legend has been created that Indians are averse to the grind at lower grades and, therefore, soon fall out with their European masters. We are far too sensible of the peculiar docility of Indians to accept the explanation. European bankers and their apologists make a romance of the young man occupied in the healthy licking of stamps and finally blossoming out as the real banker. The myth about the industrious apprentice meticulously saving a pin in the sight of his master and finally marrying his daughter is, of course, very interesting, but a little thought will show that facile comparisons are not fair. Mr. X of the Universal Banking Corporation probably had to lick stamps and address envelopes because he was unfit for anything else when his uncle introduced him. A man who comes out of the Institute of Bankers, on the other hand, is not given the durwan's work but something corresponding to his qualifications, and ready ability. No one has contended that the young Indian should be given the seals of office straight away, but he should be given work that has some relation to his cultural ability and previous attainments, and jealously supervised. We are honestly opposed to any one being spoiled as an infant prodigy. The Indian Bachelor of Commerce, who is the jest of jealous exclusionists, though he is not a product of the Bankers' Institute, is fit to do better work than licking stamps. The cavillers remind us of Mr. Bounderby in Dickens who perpetually boasted that he rose from the gutter, and scoffed at the softness of a generation which was, in his judgment, going to the dogs. The Indian is naturally most amenable to discipline and intelligent advancement; but even an Indian is apt to chafe under the domination of a trousered prodigy, with hat and stick, but seldom good in anything except in the art of being offensive. It may be, in the eyes of European subordinates with established rights, the new apprentice is an intruder; all the more reason it is for honest superiors to see that there is fair play, and what is more, a fair field and no favour.

We earnestly hope that besides nominally answering the grievance of racial exclusion, the experiment of the Imperial Bank will be a real success. It is going to be the real bank of India, a mammoth concern sweeping the field and in a way choking the progress of private joint-stock banks. It is all the more reason that Indians should in due course have a dominant share in its administration and see that it is an Indian concern, without the peril of the London tail wagging the Indian dog. There are in India communities with a real gift for banking. Those, who have had some inside view of our modern banking establishments, know that the bulk of the officers employed are occupied with routine work where industry and good faith are the ruling qualifications. The notion that they are currency experts or authorities on international exchange is false, and, therefore, when apologists point to the transactions behind the brass-bars as a forbiddingly complex affair suited only for subtle adepts in finance, they are speaking in ignorance. We have banking talent worthy of active encouragement. Among the most familiar charges against Indians, is their alleged proneness to go out of the way and speculate; the accusation of defective intelligence is happily not heard. Association with the Imperial Bank means, even for the wildest character, some element of restraint and it is not fair to harp on traditional prejudices when training without risk is easy of accomplishment. But there are Indians whose banking competence deserves particular notice. What of the offices in the higher hierarchy in the Imperial Bank? There are certainly Indians competent to share the responsibility of the dual system of managing governorship which obtains at present. If the gradual Indianisation of the Bank is honestly accepted in principle, is it necessary that both the managing governors should be Europeans? When the governing body in the quietness of Simla voted them salaries exceeding those of the Finance Member, besides free quarters, Mr. Bomanjee rightly protested against it and pointed out the unfairness of Europeans occupying both places. He gave the names of accomplished Indians fit to share the responsibility. Blank assertions that there are no competent Indians, do not carry weight at present. If in succession to Lord Meston, the name of an Indian of ability had been whispered, official sentiment would have been outraged, but when a humdrum revenue officer like Mr. Hailey was pitchforked into the place, there was not even an excitement in the official world. That, of course, was quite in order. It is prejudice and exclusiveness which make these pundits look appalled at suggestions that are of far greater acceptability. Therefore, when preparations are ostentatiously made for the infusion of an Indian element, the authorities of the Bank must not forget that they are merely scratching the surface. It is possible to have fair play all along the line and as custodians of Government funds the Bank should be made to feel that it cannot shirk its manifest responsibility. It is the acquisition of some power at the top as well as in the local offices which will really mark the beginning of training young Indians from the lower ranks for it will give them hope.

Notes of the Day.

Famine In Broach.

The monsoon this year has, so far, behaved in a most strange fashion. Almost everywhere it is in defect and in many places the rainfall has been practically nil. The prospect in our Presidency especially is full of great anxiety and nowhere it is more so than in parts of Gujarat which experienced famine last year. Famine conditions have prevailed in the Panch Mahal and Broach Districts—and the insufficiency and want of rainfall have aggravated them. Everywhere there is a crying need for fodder for cattle. In Dohad and Jalod talukas of the Panch Mahal District the Gujarat Provincial Congress Committee is importing grass and selling it to the ryots at cost price. In other parts, where the need for it is most keenly felt and similar arrangements have been or are being made. But the distress both among cattle and human beings is acutest in the Wagra and Jambusar talukas of Broach District. Heart-rending accounts by eye-witnesses of the suffering both of human beings and cattle have been pouring in our office. In the village of Ochan, according to one account, a respectable Patidar has gone mad because it was not possible for him to get good for himself and the starving members of his family. In Paldi, another village, a starving man murdered a child for his ornaments, worth Rs. 7-8 to procure food for himself and made a confession to this effect before a magistrate. Agriculturists are, in most cases, accepting all kinds of sacrifice even to the extent of starving themselves to keep alive their cattle for whom they go miles away from their villages to procure dried grass and leaves from trees. In this state of things Government might have been expected to come to the help of starving human beings and cattle. What have the Government, however, done? Recently tagavi loans, indeed, used to be given, but in the shape of such magnificent sums as rupees ten or five to agriculturers who came from distances of several miles! In this way, we are informed, about Rs. 25,000 have been given though the actual demand is over a lakh. What is worse, however, is that even this help has now been discontinued. To add to the miseries of the people, in some places, so we are informed, property is being attached for recovery of past tagavi loans. Could bureaucratic callousness go further than this? We understand that this scandalous state of things has prevailed since the advent of the present Collector. But the Collector in his domain is a law unto himself while those who are placed above him do not think it their duty to visit the affected areas and acquaint themselves with the sufferings and needs of the people. We should like to know if Sir Ibrahim Rahimtoola, the Revenue Member, has visited these parts to find out for himself what ails the people. The Gujarat Provincial Congress Committee, we are glad to note, has, however, not neglected the people. It is not only importing grass and selling it at cost price to the agriculturists but it has also been giving financial assistance to starving and needy persons.

Fighting Labour.

The "Madras Mail," which only a day previously had frantically called upon Lord Willingdon's Government to resort to "firm repressive measures" to put down the labour agitators in the city and, "as a first instalment thereof." to raid the Labour Unions meeting place at Perambore and to arrest the strike leaders, must have been highly gratified next day to find a ready response on the part of the authorities, who, as we now see, have come out with a notification holding out all sorts of threats to the public in general and the labour "agitators" in particular. The Labour Union's offices, were, it seems, raided by the police, on the pretext that two missing revolvers were reported to them to be hidden there, but, of course, they had to go away empty-handed. The police are, however, making up for their past dereliction of duty and usual incompetence, by arresting indiscriminately the strike leaders, pursuant to the advice of the Anglo-Indian journal. Lord Willingdon, too, whose absence along with his "Cabinet" from the city, owing to preoccupations on the heights of Ooty, has contributed not a little to the development of the crisis has, after his decent from the clouds, summoned more than one meeting of his "Cabinet" and declared his determination—to surrender, as usual, his authority to Sir Lionel Davidson and his coterie of the "Martial Law and no d. . . d nonsense" school. Lord Willingdon is reported to have invited some of the strike leaders to an "interview" with himself, in the course of which he told them that he would extern them from the city in case the disturbances continued. If the local police, in spite of reinforcements, are unable to trace the origin of the fires, occurring night after night, Lord Willingdon and his "Cabinet" can see no way out of the trouble except by clapping into jail or externing summarily all those who refuse to accept the wages which the European agents of the Buckingham and other mills may offer. With such exemplary lessons in "responsible Government" Lord Willingdon's Indian colleagues ought to be able to finish their apprenticeship in a much shorter period than the allotted one of ten years.

POLICE COMMISSIONER'S NOTIFICATION

Except for three minor fires, the strike situation yesterday was comparatively quiet. First two fires occurred in Pulianthope Cheri, resulting in the distruction of a few remaining Adi-Dravida huts and th third at the slaughter house Cheri, but was soon put out. From 8 p.m. to 11-30 p.m. there were military pickets posted all round the mill area, and poilce patrolled in all directions.

OPTIMISTIC AIR FOR SETTLEMENT.

SUSPENSION OF OPERATIONS BY OPPOSING FORCES.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)
LONDON, July 5.
Recd. 11 a.m., July 8.

Reuter learns that as a consequence of yesterday's Dublin Conference an atmosphere has been created which is likely to lead to what will be tantamount to tacit suspension of the operations by the opposing forces in Ireland, while the peace parleys continue. The Crown forces are gradually easing up their repressive measures in order not to hamper the peace negotiations and it is hoped that Sinn Fein will similarly suspend the offensive although the difficulties of control in the latter case are recognised. It is pointed out that there have been practically no executions during the past few weeks. An optimistic air reigns in well informed circles.

EFFORTS OF INDIA GOVERNMENT.

"CLOSE THE PUNJAB CHAPTER."

VICEROY'S APPEAL TO MODERATES.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
SIMLA, July 7.

The Viceroy received this morning a deputation from the representatives of the United Provinces Liberal Association, who presented His Excellency with an address of welcome. The deputation was headed by its President, Rai Bahadur Anand Sarup, and consisted of thirteen gentlemen.

In the course of a lengthy address the deputation heartily thanked the Viceroy for encouraging the country to expect a bright era during his regime, and for asserting that there should be no racial inequality. Justice, sympathy, equality and freedom is with India wanted and these could be the only guarantee of ordered progress and the only basis of faith in the purpose and utility of British connection with this country. While the introduction of substantial and far reaching constitutional reforms, designed and calculated to lead to complete responsible Government, it was idle to ignore or belittle the disastrous effect of what was done in the Punjab two years ago. The people of India had yet to receive complete satisfaction for the wrongs done to them, and that self-respect of India yet remained to be vindicated in full measure. The severety of the Turkish Treaty had made a painful impression upon the Moslem India. Absolute equality with the Dominions was essential condition of India's willing membership of the British Empire. The actual conditions obtaining in South Africa, Canada, Australia, Uganda, New Zealand, East Africa and Fiji, the last two of which were administered directly under the Crown, were a warning that as yet equality was more an aspiration than a fact. India's grievance was not against the Government of India, who had been advocating her just cause, but against the Government of those territories and His Majesty's Government. If representations should continue to prove to be of little avail, there would be no alternative but the adoption of retaliatory measures by the Government.

VALUE OF REFORMS.

Referring to the Reforms, the deputation said the value of constitutional changes would have been appreciated much more widely had the principle of responsibility been introduced into the Government of India. The liberalisation of the Government of India was most important which the deputation hoped would be carried out by His Excellency. He next urged the removal of racial bar in the matter of conferring King's Commissions in the army. The time had come when a clear and well defined policy, tending towards Indianisation of the army, subject to the consideration of efficiency and necessary training, should be adopted by the Government India's advance towards responsible Government should be accompanied with a training in the art of national defence. Military expenditure, which had been mounting up at an alarming pace, could only be reduced to a reasonable figure if, and when, a policy of trust and equality was courageously adopted.

Continuing, the deputation said: "We shall be failing in our duty to Government if we omit to bring to Your Lordship's notice The grave concern that is widely felt over the increase of civil, not less than military expenditure. The cost of administration shows a perilous tendency to rise beyond the natural growth of revenue. We fear that the growing cost of establishments is not checked as the interests of the country require that it should be. The personnel of the superior or the so-called Imperial services is predominantly non-Indian, and the frequent increases in their salaries, allowances and pensions, almost invariably with retrospective effect, that have been announced during the last few years, are seriously disquieting. As instances may be mentioned the repeated revisions of the emoluments of the Indian Medical Service. The latest statement of the Secretary of State in the House of Commons foreshadowing a fresh increase in the salaries of the Indian Civil and other Imperial Services after all that has been done for them, in spite of the unsatisfactory economic and financial condition of the country might well create dismay in the public mind."

EXCHANGE POLICY.

"The Exchange and Currency policy followed by the Government during the last eighteen months has neither strengthened the economic position of the country, nor inspired confidence in our countrymen. India is a poor country, and we are bound to emphasize the paramount importance at all times of economical administration, believing as we do in Gladstone's dictum that economy is itself a great source of revenue. We think that the true solution of the difficulty lies in a courageous revision of the entire system of recruitment of the services and we feel persuaded that the increasing association of Indians in the administration of the country, which is now the avowed object of British policy, can only be secured by recruiting Imperial services mainly in this country. It was felt by us, the supporters of the Montagu-Chelmsford Reforms that one of their weakest features was the control reserved to the Secretary of State over the recruitment and the conditions of service and salaries of the superior branches of the public services serving in the reserved as well as transferred departments in the provinces. We submit that it detracts from the practical value of the Reforms to place this highly important subject beyond the control of provincial Government. We have no hesitation in urging a reconsideration of this matter on financial grounds as well as for reasons of policy, and we venture to think that the restrictions imposed upon the liberty of action of provincial Governments must be proving detrimental to efficiency and a source of embarrassment to them in administration. We are constrained to urge respectfully, but earnestly that Your Lordship may be pleased to review the whole position in relation to the public service and to recommend to His Majesty's Secretary of State an amendment of the rules so as to concede a reasonable amount of freedom to provincial Governments. In regard to recruitment and the conditions of service in future. We think, too, that there is room and need for much more of real devolution than there has yet been. The real control over the Executive Governments of Provinces should be exercised more by their respective Legislative Councils than by the superior executive authority.

JUSTICE FOR PRESTIGE.

After expressing satisfaction at the consideration of the question of the Press Act by a committee and mentioning that the amount taken by the Central Government from the United Provinces was far in excess of what to be levied the deputation concluded by stating that it must recognised that there was acute and widespread discontent in the land, that the past policy of the Government was responsible for it and for such response as the advocates of Non-Cooperation with the Government had been able to get from the people. The sovereign remedy lay in the steadfast endeavour by the Government and their officers to substitute justice for prestige as the rule of conduct, to prevent oppression, by subordinate officials, who came most into contact with the people in their daily lives, and to promote social and economic well-being and satisfy political and national self-respect.

The address was enclosed in a casket and presented to His Excellency by Rai Bahadur Anand Swarup, who also introduced the other members of the deputation.

Replying to the deputation of the United Provinces Liberal Association, his Excellency the Viceroy in the course of his speech, said:

I am deeply grateful to you for the cordial welcome which you have extended to me on my assumption of the high office of Viceroy and Governor-General at this critical stage in Indian history. You have covered all the main issues of political controversy in your address, and in it you say that justice, sympathy, equality and freedom are what India wants. With this sentiment I am in complete agreement, and am confident that these high ideals illumine and inspire those who are responsible for guiding India to the goal of responsible Government within the British Empire, which is alike your political creed, and the declared policy of his Majesty's Government. May I in turn appeal to you, and I know I shall not appeal in vain, and through you to the countless number of your countrymen, who consciously or unconsciously share your aspirations for sympathy and assistance in our arduous task. We, who hold high office in this country, whether British or Indian, are liable to error and may come to wrong conclusions, and that Government, like all human institutions, have made mistakes, but we do claim that our motives are pure and sincere, and that we are honestly striving to achieve our common purpose along the lines laid down for us by Parliament, and in the manner we believe to be best calculated to promote the happiness and welfare of India. Give us credit for sincerity and honesty of purpose, and do not make our tasks more difficult by keeping alive the mistakes and errors of the past, when we are striving to allay discontent and to promote better relations.

AN UNHAPPY CHAPTER.

You allude to the unhappy incidents in the Punjab two years ago. The very regrettable mistakes and excesses committed on that occasion, have been admitted and deplored by official spokesmen and in official documents on more than one occasion. Let me quote only one passage from a speech by Sir William Vincent on behalf of the Government of India. The Hon. member after recalling and condemning the cruel and wanton murders and crimes of violence that preceded the Act, to which you refer, said, "on the other hand we have overdrastic and severe punishment. The excessive use of force and acts which have been interpreted as calculated to humiliate the Indian people in a manner which cannot but be regarded as unpardonably and morally indefensible, at any time, but more so than ever at a time when this country is about to enter upon a system of responsible government." Mistakes have been admitted,

MR. MONTAGU ON INDIAN UNREST.

PROPORTIONAL PENSIONS FOR I.C.S.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)
LONDON, July 5.
Recd. 11-15 p.m., July 8.

Replying to Mr. Leonard Lyle, Mr. Montagu said that it was a common knowledge that the situation in India had given cause for anxiety during the past year, but this was mainly due to the activities of persons who had expressed their intention of not taking advantage of the Act of 1919. Mr. Montagu hoped that the situation was improving. The world was restless and India was no more so than many other countries, perhaps owing to the Reform Scheme which was working successfully.

PENSIONS OF I. C. S. MEN.

In reply to Col. Yate who asked a question with regard to Civil servants in India who desired to retire on proportional pensions because their services under the Reform Scheme were not congenial, Mr. Montagu stated that he was communicating with the Government of India and an announcement would be made as soon as possible after he had received and considered their opinion on certain points.

In the House of Commons in reply to Mr. Lindsay with regard to the disbandment of the 80th Carnatic Infantry, Mr. Montagu regretted the passing of regiment in view of its long historical associations and battle honours, but he emphasised that the decision as to which units should be disbanded, must be left to the Government of India, who were carefully considering the disposal of officers and men affected. He was not at present in a position to state what arrangement would finally be made for officers, but the men would receive mustering out concessions according to the terms of their enlistment.

REVISED CHARGES FOR RAILWAYS

Sir Thomas Bennett urged that in view of the objections to the surcharge on goods rates on Indian Railways enforcement of revised scale of charges should be accelerated. Mr. Montagu replied that he was alive to the objection and was corresponding with the Government of India on that subject.

BENGAL COUNCIL.

QUESTION ABOUT ASSAM "COOLIES."

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
CALCUTTA, July

At to-day's meeting of the Bengal Legislative Council eight resolutions were discussed, two of which were negatived and six carried.

The only important resolution which was discussed at some length urged Government to request Government of India to include Darjeeling district within the Reforms Scheme for the province of Bengal. Sir Henry Wheeler gave reason why Darjeeling was excluded from the Reform Scheme and said that the question would be reopened after two years, that was, six months before the next elections. The resolution was carried.

Replying to a question with reference to conversation between Mr. K. C. De, Divisional Commissioner, and Babu Akhil Chander Dutt, regarding the Assam coolies as published in newspapers Hon. Sir Henry Wheeler said that conversation as published was inaccurate,. Mr. De made no statement to the effect that he proposed to fight non-cooperation movement with the Gurkhas. As regards moral impression what Mr. De conveyed by his remarks was that he had then sufficient force to check any violence among the non-cooperators, and that the presence of the militray police would prove this to people, and create a moral impression. Mr. De never threatened to stop hartal at any cost, or to take other drastic repressive measure. He never threatened to send Gurkhas to the town.

Replying to another question asking Government to intervene with a view to bring the strike in East Bengal to an end, Hon. Mr. Kerr said that strikes were not due to any ordinary economic dispute between capital and labour, but had been deliberately brought about by certain persons for their own purposes, and responsibility for public inconvenience caused by the strikes must rest with them. Government could not use fully intervene at this stage but were watching the situation.

CALCUTTA, July 7.

At to-day's meeting of the Bengal Legislative Council only four resolutions were discussed. Mr. K. Roy Choudhari, Labour Member, moved that early steps be taken to establish or institute an Industrial Board for determination of minimum wage for each industry in Bengal. He would like to see an all-India act to abolish sweating by fixing a rate something like one and a half anna per hour as a general minimum and piece-rate of wages based on forty-eight hours a week with overtime. Representatives of coal, tea and other industries opposed the motion. The Hon. Mr. Kerr said it was pity this question was not examined by the Committee which considered the causes of the strikes. At present they had not sufficient information to justify them in taking action in regard to small trades and if they did so there would be a risk of destroying trades. The resolution was n[illegible]

AN APPEAL,

TO THE CONSUMER.

(BY M. K. GANDHI).

After all, the battle rests neither with the millowner nor with the merchant. They both cater for the consumer and the consumer, whilst he represents the monied class, represents most emphatically the middle class and the peasantry, meaning over 80 per cent of the population of India. This movement of non-cooperation was described in the resolution at the Calcutta Congress as a process of purification and India can be said to be purified only when her millions become deliberately purified. Before we become pure, we must increase the average income of the nation, so that the lowest of us feels capable of maintaining himself respectably. It is utterly impossible to do so on Rs. 26 per year. He must supplement that income to such an extent that the average doubles itself. And this is only possible, if the peasantry takes up a supplementary industry.

On a large scale it can only be the spinning wheel and millions will not take to it till the real pressure is felt. And the pressure will not be felt until we have almost entirely boycotted foreign cloth. It is a confession of helplessness to plead before the merchants that they should not put temptations in our way. The most dignified course is to understand the value of Swadeshi and to refuse to buy any foreign cloth at all, and to get rid of what is to-day in our possession either by destroying it or by sending it outside India or by confining its use to the home-life, as a matter of helplessness. I must consider the three methods separately on their merits some other time, but meanwhile we must organise ourselves for giving up the use in public of all foreign cloth immediately. We must do even as we did about the Tilak Memorial Swaraj collection. Every class and every class held meetings and collected for itself, even so should every class or caste should busy itself among its own members with the boycott of foreign cloth programme.

We must be serious about it if we really mean to establish Swaraj during the next few ensuing months. It is easy enough with a universal acceptance in practice of Swadeshi, i.e., boycott of foreign cloth and the use of Khadi as much as possible. The attainment of Swaraj this year is almost an impossibility without acceptance of Swadeshi in the full sense of the term by the vast majority of the people of India. Such acceptance of Swadeshi means organising ability, desire to sacrifice, recognition by the masses of one purpose.

I am hoping that the consumer will stand this test and come out successful through it. There are difficulties in the way, I know, but we shall be measured by our ability to surmount those difficulties and the only way to do so is to face them without fear and to be determined upon their removal without counting the cost. And the nation that can show these qualities is a nation whose right to govern itself cannot be questioned by any power on earth.

The citizens of Bombay and the whole of India have a unique opportunity of demonstrating their earnestness as also their genuine regard for the Lokamanya on the first day of August. I hope, therefore, that every Congress Committee, in fact, every Congress man and woman will concentrate themselves upon making the 1st of August an emphatic success. No Congress man or Congress woman can afford on the 1st of August to appear dressed in foreign cloth. When we feel the humiliation and the shame of using foreign cloth and realise the dignity and the necessity of the use of home-spun, the battle is almost won.

DR. PARANJPYE'S CASE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
AKOLA, July 6.

Dr. Paranjpye's case stands adjourned till Friday for the argument of the prosecution counsel and the ruling of the Magistrate on an objection raised by Barrister Abhyankar that the complaint in the present case is not a complaint of fact, as required by section 190 sub-section A of the C.P.C., it does not contain the speech itself which is alleged to be seditious, and hence the Court has no jurisdiction to try the case.

LUCKNOW, July 7.

At the next session of the U P. Legislative Council on the 1st, 2nd and 3rd of August, business will be entirely devoted to discussion of supplementary budget estimates. The 4th and 5th will be devoted to the District Boards Bill and the 8th and the 9th with the Oudh Rent Bill. In cases of the Bills principles will be discussed and Government would move that they be referred to a Select Committee. It is probable that the Agra Bill, the notice of the motion for leave to introduce which has been given by a non-official member, may be taken up during July or August sitting of the Council. The Council will then also elect its representatives to the Forest Committee and to the Board of Communication.

REVISION OF TURKISH TREATY.

regrets have been expressed, and the moving appeal was made to "forgive and forget." I refrain from further discussion in order that I may follow this exhortation I shall only add that we must use the past to gather wisdom to guide us in the present and the future, and to help us to a closer and more sympathetic understanding of each other. As you know, I am engaged at present upon the examination of the cases of persons still imprisoned in connection with these disorders, and I shall shortly announce my conclusions. Apart from that, I do not see what purpose can now be served by reviving this unhappy chapter of our history, and I ask you and through you all Indians who believe in constitutional methods to endorse the view of the Legislative Assembly, last February, to let bygones be bygones and to regard this chapter as closed, save for the lessons to be deduced for the guidance of the future.

TURKISH TREATY.

You speak in your address of the terms of the Turkish Treaty. You acknowledge the efforts of the Government of India and of the Secretary of State to secure a revision of these terms. I can assure you that these efforts have not been and will not be in any way relaxed, and that both the Secretary of State and the Government of India appreciate to the full, and deeply sympathise with the feelings of Moslem-India on this question. I have so recently expressed my views upon this difficult question that I shall not repeat them. But I know from my diplomatic experience how easily the settlement of differences between nations can be prejudiced by the creation of political atmosphere, and it seems to me that violent writing and speaking, both in India and elsewhere, can only have the effect of hampering our efforts and of retarding and even of imperilling the solution of a problem in which India takes so profound an interest.

FREE EMIGRATION OF INDIANS.

You mention in your address the obstacles impeding the free emigration of Indians to the various dominions and colonies. I am glad to see that you recognise in this case the fault does not lie with the Government of India, though you should, in justice to his Majesty's Government, admit that in the case, at any rate of the self-governing Dominions, the fault does not lie with the Home Government, for in these matters his Majesty's Government, however sympathetic it may be, cannot impose its will upon the Governments of the self-governing Dominions. As you doubtless know both the Secretary of State and my predecessor, Lord Chelmsford, have done their utmost to remove the disabilities of which you complain and to secure for Indians the full rights of citizenship within the Empire. Our efforts hitherto have not been as successful as we could have wished, but I can assure you that we shall not falter in our task. The problem of reconciling two divergent points of view on this matter is one of great difficulty, but I have great hopes of happy results from the visit to England of India's two distinguished representatives on the Imperial Conference now sitting. His Highness the Maharao of Cutch and the Hon. Mr. Sastri, it is with the greatest satisfaction that I learn, from the newspapers, that these gentlemen have made a profound impression on the other members of the Conference, and I shall be grievously disappointed if their efforts have no tangible results.

RESPONSIBILITY IN CENTRAL GOVERNMENT.

You have expressed regret that the principle of responsibility has not been introduced into the Government of India. Well, gentlemen, you are aware that the present form of Government was never intended to be final. It was devised for a period of transition. It is in itself an immense advance upon the past, and marks the confidence reposed in India by the British. You have expressed your profound disbelief in attempts at short cuts to the goal of Self-Government by whatever label they may be described. I venture to express agreement with this view in the language of the famous announcement of August, 1917. "Advance must depend on the cooperation received from those upon whom new opportunities of service have been conferred, and by the extent to which it is found that confidence can be reposed in their sense of responsibility." But, surely, it is hardly in accordance with facts to say that the elected representatives of the people in the Central Legislature possess no power. No impartial observer can deny that the legislatures, both at the headquarters and in the provinces, have in fact exercised the greatest influence over the Executive, and have developed powers possibly even greater than the authors of the Reforms Scheme originally contemplated. It is a high tribute to the corporate sense of responsibility of the legislatures that these powers have practically, in every instance, been experienced with a wise moderation; and herein lies the brightest augury for the future of representative institutions in this country.

COMMISSIONS IN THE ARMY.

With the desire of the people of India, apart from those classes, who already belong to the splendid Indian Army, to take a larger share in the defence of their country, I am in entire sympathy. We are doing all in our power to meet this very laudable desire but, as you have recognised, considerations of efficiency must be paramount. It is for this reason that it has been found necessary to proceed slowly and cautiously with the experiment of granting King's Commissions to Indians. Since this policy was introduced we have sent to Sandhurst the number of cadets fixed by His Majesty's Government. This represents about 20 per cent. of the number of cadets' commissions in the Indian Army given annually. At present from Sandhurst all those who are given cadetships do not unfortunately qualify for commissions, but the remedy rests with the cadets themselves. You will, I feel sure, agree that efficiency must be the first consideration and that there are no grounds for admitting to the honour of King's Commission with the great responsibility such a commission entails on anyone whether British or Indian who fails to attain the requisite standard of efficiency. We are anxious, moreover, to afford special educational facilities to Indian lads, who desire to enter the commissioned ranks of the army in order to fit them to take full advantage of the Sandhurst course. With this object in view we are pressing a scheme for the establishment of a school at Dera Dun where education will be given that will enable young men to pass into Sandhurst, and do credit to the Motherland while there. I have reason to hope that this school will be opened early next year.

With reference to the general question of training Indians for the defence of their country the rules under the Territorial Force Act are about to be published in their final form and steps are being taken to constitute a number of Territorial Infantry Battalions in addition to the University Training Corps. The response that is made to the appeal for recruits for this Territorial Force will be the measure of the genuineness of the demand to which you refer, and I confidently expect that it will be such as to ensure the success of the scheme and to warrant its extension in the near future. I cannot speak at present about the probable results of the examination of Indian Military Requirements, which is now being made, a Committee of which the Commander-in-Chief is President, and Indian members of my Council as well as Indian representatives of the Legislative Assembly and of the Indian Army are members. As you know the conclusions of this Committee, after examination of my Government, will be laid before a sub-committee of the Committee of the Imperial Defence in England, and we must avail their conclusions finally. The claim of Indians to hold Commissions in other arms of His Majesty's military, naval and air forces in India, a claim with which I am in complete sympathy, is now receiving our active attention.

I think I have said enough to satisfy you that these questions which you have ventilated are receiving the earnest and sympathetic consideration of the Government of India, and that our proposals are based upon that very principle of trust relied upon by you.

CIVIL AND MILITARY EXPENDITURE.

You have also referred to the concern with which you view the increase of civil as well as of military expenditure, and more especially the growing cost of establishments. I can assure you that this problem has caused my Government also the most anxious concern. On the one hand, we have deep sense of responsibility to the Indian tax-payer, and every desire to avoid increasing his burdens, on the other hand, we realize that high prices, high taxation, and the other economic results of the war, which have operated to create discontent among the members of public services throughout the world could not be expected to leave India unaffected.

They have in fact caused serious uneasiness among the members, both British and Indian, of nearly all our services. This uneasiness is even more marked in the subordinate and ministerial services than in the superior services, and we were assured by more than one local Government that, unless steps were taken to assuage, it would be risking a complete breakdown of the administration. It cannot be doubted that, if you wish to maintain the high traditions of efficiency and probity, which have always distinguished the higher services, both Indian and British in this country, you must be prepared to pay for them. I think you will agree with me that, at this crisis in her history, India cannot be content with the second rate, but, if you want still to obtain the first rate, you must accept the view that it is essential to maintain those attractions of the services. Our difficulty, and it is a very real one, is to reconcile this urgent obligation with our responsibilities as trustees of the public purse. I must content myself today with assuring you that we shall continue to bear these responsibilities well in mind and that my Government will not fail to examine your suggestions with the greatest care.

You refer also to the control reserved in the Reforms Scheme to the Secretary of State over those branches, the superior public services, which are serving in the Provinces. You express the view that it detracts from the practical value of the Reforms to place this highly important subject beyond the control of provincial governments. You will, however, recognise as practical men, that the apprehensions generally felt in the services regarding the uncertainty of their position under the new reform of Government were not unreasonable, and that it was deemed necessary to allay them by taking the course which is the subject of your criticism.

PRESS ACT COMMITTEE.

With regard to the Press Act the Committee appointed by the Government of India to consider this statute has now presented its report, which will be published within a day or two. Its recommendations are far reaching, and have given me personally great satisfaction. I have no doubt that they truly represent the general opinion of the country, and you may rest assured that they are receiving the most sympathetic consideration of the Government.

PROVINCIAL CONTRIBUTIONS.

With regard to your complaint as to the excessive amount of financial contribution, which the Government of your Provinces, makes to the Central Government, you will not, I am sure, expect me to go into the figures on the present occasion, but remind you that the amount was assessed not by the Government of India but by an Impartial committee, presided over by one of the distinguished Lieut.-Governors of your own provinces, who, doubtless, only arrived at their conclusions after they had taken into consideration all the factors so forcibly urged in your address.

I note with satisfaction your assertion that you are members of a political party which believes in constitutional action for political ends. You seek self-government for India within the British Empire. I am here as his Majesty's representative to help you by constitutional means to attain it, but the pace will not be accelerated, nor the end reached by lawless, or unconstitutional action. On more than one occasion I have expressed the determination of my Government to maintain order, to vindicate the law and to protect peaceful and law abiding citizens. We should be false to our trust, if we failed in this respect. Although we recognise this primary obligation upon us as a government, we are supremely conscious of our duty to ascertain the causes of the discontent of the people, and strive to our utmost capacity to remove legitimate grievances. There seems to be no difference of opin on between you and my Government in this respect.

JUSTICE—NOT PRESTIGE.

Now, generally speaking, in the remedies you suggest, you advance a steadfast endeavour by the Government and their officers to substitute justice for prestige as the rule of conduct. I need not dilate upon the intense desire of my Government to do justice, but justice cannot be substituted for prestige, for prestige of Government must depend for its existence upon justice, which is the foundation of the influence and authority of the Government. But I am entirely in agreement with you, if by this language you mean, as I understand it to convey that the Government and their officers must regard justice and not the force behind the Government as the guiding factor in their conclusions and in their actions. Again, you seek to prevent oppression by subordinate officials who come into contact with people in their daily lives, you will not need my assurance that we are here in complete accord as also in your desire for the promotion of social and economic well-being.

You are good enough to express belief in my powers to solve these problems. I thank you for the confidence you repose in me, but I become daily more conscious of the difficulties of my Government. It is essential to understand the complexities of the problem before the remedy can be devised or applied. Believe me, I am not so blind to daily events as some persons think and others would have you believe I watch to the best of my ability the daily occurrences, and am well aware that incidents happen at times which are quite justifiable and rouse the indignation that always follows upon injustice. Such acts are wholly unpardonable, either morally or politically, but I believe they are becoming rarer and I trust will daily tend to disappear.

"EVEN-HANDED JUSTICE."

You may rest assured that my attention is being directed to ascertain and appreciate the differences in legal procedure and administration applicable to Europeans and Indians. I do not at this moment desire to suggest the precise remedy. I am, however, fully conscious of the grounds for that demand, and it is receiving the most careful examination and consideration of my Government. Believe me, I am profoundly conscious of the necessity of impressing the public mind with my Government's earnest desire and determination to do even-handed justice as the basis of its political actions.

I will ask you, however, to remember if you find me today cautious in expression that I have been here only three months, and that I should deeply deplore using language of promise which I could not in the future justify by action. My last word to you is that, notwithstanding conflicts, disturbances and agitations, I am convinced that we are daily making steady progress towards that fuller realisation of responsibility which you have so much at heart. I thank you for the assurance that I can count upon the support and cooperation of your Association and of the political party of which it is the organised representative.

RIOTS AT ALIGARH.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS BURNT BY MOB

(Associated Press.)

ALLAHABAD, July 6.

A Press communique from Naini Tal states:—News has been received from the District Magistrate, Aligarh, that a mob rose in connection with the case of a political prisoner under trial, attacking the police guard and the Reserves Inspector's bungalow but is being beaten off. While escorting the prisoner after conviction, the police guard was beaten severely and the police outpost was attacked. Serious riots have developed. The Kotwali and other buildings, including the post-office, have been burnt by the mob, which made rounds of the city. Several people have been killed. It has been necessary to call in military and mounted police from Agra. The Commissioner proceeds at once to Aligarh.

MAGISTRATE'S APPEAL TO PEOPLE.

Further details to hand with regard to the Aligarh disturbance, show that the District Magistrate, Mr. Liddiard, has invited the public to give information they desire regarding the riot and rioters, and has issued orders under section 144 C.P.C. stopping rioters from roaming about, and has also prohibited meetings.

Mr. Liddiard has issued the following appeal to the citizens and residents of Aligarh:—

I have no wish now to refer to the atrocities and violence committed by the rioters on July 5th, nor is it necessary to emphasize the remarkable and full self-restraint shown throughout by the police in their behaviour. I have, however, to point out that the breach of peace brought about by this riot has been most serious and that such breaches of peace cannot be permitted. Vast majority of residents of Aligarh regret and disapprove of this disgraceful exhibition as much as I do. I, therefore, appeal to all sober-minded and loyal subjects to exercise their best influence and power privately and publicly to suppress any further agitation, and I must ask all such loyal and sober-minded subjects to accept necessary restrictions upon their movements and convenience without complaint, because such orders, as are and will be issued, only so far as the situation absolutely required it, and are unavoidable results which all have to suffer for the faults of the few. The attempt to interpret orders already issued in the sense that they will prevent any one going to mosque or going anywhere in a peaceful and orderly manner is entirely untrue and false, and is an example of the way in which certain disaffected persons appear to be continuing to attempt to create agitation.

A PICKET FINED FOR OBSTRUCTING LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

Yesterday, before a bench of Honorary Magistrates, consisting of Messrs. B. N. Athavle and R. B. Vandekar, a volunteer named Dhondoo Bhagia was charged by Inspector J. W. Power for obstructing the traffic, Mr. K. A. Somji appeared for the accused.

Mr. Power in his examination said that the accused volunteer was not obstructing persons or traffic on the footpath, but he was only preventing people going into the liquor-shop No. 137, by saying "Pavoo Padtahe" (I fall at your feet). Mr. Power also admitted that 50 children used to follow him, whenever he went and this added to the crowd collected by the volunteer.

The accused pleaded "not guilty."

Two witnesses, Narayan and Namdeo Bhimaji were examined and they deposed in favour of the accused. Mr. K. A. Somji brought to the notice of the Magistrates how the crowd was collected and requested him to take into consideration the temperance work which these volunteers were doing, and he further said that Mr. Power had admitted that a crowd of children followed him and so the Inspector was responsible for the collection of the crowd. Mr. Somji enquired of the Magistrate if he (the Magistrate) believed the temperance work to be good, without taking into his head anything about "Home Rule" or "Gandhiji" Mr. Athavle: "No sane man will say the work is a sin."

After hearing the argument of Mr. Somji, Mr. Athavle said that he had to convict the accused for disobeying police orders and at the same time he found the accused guilty under Section 283 I. P. C. He added that he desired to give a deterrent punishment.

Mr. Somji said just before this very case, the Magistrate had sentenced several persons to a fine of As. 8 or Re. 1 for drinking and disorderly behaviour, and he prayed them to take a lenient view of the case.

But Mr. Athavle pronounced a fine of Rs. 20 on the accused.

FOUR PICKETS SENTENCED

(Associated Press.)

POONA, July .

Before the City Magistrate, yesterday, four Hindu volunteer pickets were charged under section 610 of the District Police Act with disturbing public peace and order on the night of 28th June last. It appears that Mr. S. R. Mane, Assistant Surgeon, who had arrived from Bombay the same day, went to a liquor shop in a tonga and purchased a pint of brandy. When he was leaving, the accused obstructed him and demanded the bottle of liquor This Mr. Mani refused to do and drove on, followed by the accused and a crowd of about 200 people. At the police station the complainant asked for police protection and the accused, one of whom had laid hold of the horse, were arrested. On the case coming up before the Magistrate, the complainant withdrew the charge under section 381 I. P. C. preferred by him, but evidence was led by the police to prove the charge under section 610 of the District Police Act. The Magistrate found the accused guilty under this charge and fined them Rs. 20 each or in default seven days' imprisonment.

DHARWAR FIRI G.

DUTY OF KARNATIC COUNCILLORS.

INSIST ON URGENT INQUIRY.

The Secretary of the non-Brahmin Association wires from Dharwar under date July 8:—

The firing at Dharwar by the police on the unarmed Indians should be earnestly and urgently enquired into by the elected councillors of Karnatic as it has become their duty now. During these days of democracy the enquiry they will make will be the touchstone of their patriotism, and duty every thoughtful man who is fully aware of the pitiable condition of the Motherland is watching with keen interest their work. In such matters of national interest negligence in this will be a sure proof of their bogus statesmanship and patriotism.

THE DHARWAR INCIDENT.

GOVERNMENT VERSION OF AFFAIRS

The following Press Note has been issued by the Government of Bombay on the 8th July:—

The attention of Government has been drawn to various statements appearing in the Press regarding the riot on the 1st instant at Dharwar, alleging, among other things, that the firing by the police was unprovoked, that no stone-throwing, attempts at arson, or other violence on the part of the rioters occurred and that no Government medical help was available. As several arrests have been made and as the facts in connection with the disturbance will be in due course the subject of a judicial inquiry, Government consider that the publication of statements likely to prejudice the course of such inquiry is undesirable. As, however, allegations to the above effect have been made, Government think it proper to intimate that the information before them indicates that they are entirely unwarranted,

MOB STONES POLICE.

They have received reports that about 6-30 p.m. on the 1st July, customers going to the market liquor shop were molested and assaulted. A small police party who advised the assailants to desist, was stoned and had to take shelter in the shop. Three attempts were then made to set fire to the shop, which were in each case frustrated by the police. As the crowd increased in numbers and violence, further police assistance was summoned. In spite of warning, stone-throwing became more intense. One constable fell hit by a stone, the senior Sub-Inspector was wounded and others were injured. The Sub-Inspector again warned the rioters without avail and then ordered his party to fire. The rioters retreated but returned with a Kitson light and again advanced on the police, who were again compelled to fire in self-defence. The liquor shop is reported to have been badly damaged and to have been full of stones.

PROMPT MEDICAL AID.

The District Superintendent of Police and the District Magistrate arrived and the rioters dispersed. The District Magistrate made arrangements for the removal of the three rioters left on the spot and also of the wounded police to the Civil Hospital. He found the liquor shop badly damaged and traces of fire, including a still smouldering cloth, were evident. The statement that on the day previous to the riot the District Magistrate threatened Messrs. Kabbur and Divarkar of the Karma Vir newspaper with imprisonment is untrue. He conveyed to them under the orders of Government a warning with regard to two inflammatory articles which had appeared in this paper. In the communique published on the 4th instant the word 'stocks' appears to be an error of transmission instead of 'cash' and 'shops' instead of 'shop.' No further correction of the facts then stated appears necessary in the light of the later reports. The scene of occurrence has been visited by the Commissioner, Southern Division.

RIOTING AT DHARWAR.

21 ARRESTS MADE.

(Associated Press.)

POONA, July 6.

A Poona correspondent, who has visited the scene of last Friday's riot at Dharwar, reports as follows—"While it is difficult to say what actually happened at Dharwar on Friday evening, it appeared from inspection of the scene of riot that the Government communique is probably nearer the truth than other accounts telegraphed by the Congress party. Several battering given to one of liquor shops of the town is apparent, and marks of fire are clearly to be seen on the front of it, and there seems no doubt that the police were roughly handled. The wounded were treated by town doctors who hurried to the spot as soon as they were informed by messengers. So far about twenty-one arrests have been made and charges against the accused include arson, dacoity and rioting. A special Magistrate will try the cases. The town is quiet and excitement has died down, but impartial investigation at this stage is difficult.

SITUATION IN DHARWAR.

BOMBAY MARKETS.

COLOUR-MARKET.

July 8.

The market for most of the important Colours ruled steady with little change in prices. The demand remains such as not to cope with the supply. The home quotations are indicating signs of nervousness. The stockists appear to have stopped sending further indents in big lots. Alizarine 20 per cent. has a fair demand at Rs. 125 per cwt. Congo-Red had some business at Rs. 3-4-0 to 3-12-0 per lb. Magenta Crystals and Malachite Green had poor demand. The tone is weak.

Quotations :—

Alizarine 20 per cent. Rs. 125 per cwt.
Alizarine. (Bra) Rs. 155 per cwt.
Congo-Red Rs. 3/4/0 to 3/12/0 per lb.
Magenta Crystals. Rs. 14 per lb.
Malachite Green Rs. 9 per lb.
Methyl Violet Rs. 7-8-0 per lb.
Fast Red. (Madrasi) Rs. 13 per lb.
Sulpher Black Rs. 2/12/0 per lb.

PIECE-GOODS.

July 8.

An easier tendency has prevailed in the Cloth Market during the past week and values of some cloths have receded. The absence of rain during the earlier part of the week has been a discouraging factor, and, although business is usually slack during this part of the season, the absence of demand has been keenly felt. To add to this, Mahatma Gandhi has initiated the foreign cloth boycott movement and has made a very strong appeal to the cloth merchants to refrain from importing foreign cloth, which includes goods from Japan and America. As to the stock of foreign cloth, he states that the world's markets are open to the dealers for its disposal. He mentions Mauritius, South Africa and East Africa as places where Indian specialities can be put to many uses. Some prominent dealers have given the lead and have agreed to follow the advice of Mahatma Gandhi. The latter has also made an appeal to the millowners to regulate their profits and to manufacture principally for the Indian market. Some merchants fear that the result of their response will mean that the millowners will immediately send up the prices on the plea of supply and demand. Mahatma Gandhi has therefore asked the millowners to issue their assurance that neither the merchants nor the consumer need fear any rise in the prices of their cloth, merely because of larger demand by reason of the proposed boycott of foreign goods. Some interested parties, who are against this movement, are misrepresenting to the dealers that Mahatma Gandhi has asked them to burn their foreign cloths. It is not so. He has asked the consumers to destroy foreign cloth or to sell it for use abroad or to wear it out for all dirty work or during private hours, and as to the stock of foreign cloth which the merchants hold at present he is thinking out for them the best method of disposing off the same. This new movement of Mahatma Gandhi is not of his own making, as the boycott of foreign goods was part of the programme adopted by the Congress. The merchants are now in a fix and are anxious to get rid of their stocks even at some sacrifice. The uncertainty as to the future outlook has not been conducive to free trade and buyers are chary to commit themselves to any fresh business at the moment. If the boycott movement succeeds it will be a severe blow to Lancashire trade. The Swadeshi movement is now in full swing and it behoves every merchant to turn his attention solely to Swadeshi cloths, not only for the benefit of the country, but in his own interests, and thus move with the times and adapt himself to new conditions.

The Manchester Market has been steady and the makers have been more inclined to entertain fresh business, now that the coal and labour strikes have ended. Following this, another agreement has been brought about between capital and labour, affecting a quarter of a million workers in the woollen and textile industries, on the basis of a reduction of sixteen per cent. in wages against the original suggestion of the owners of twenty-two per cent. It is reported that the shipments of goods which have been delayed owing to the strikes are being pushed forward with all speed, which means that several packages will arrive here next month, all at the same time, and will tend to increase the stock and cause inconvenience to the dealers.

In the local market, Manchester Grey Shirtings have not been in request, but prices have remained steady. The demand for Drills, Jaconets and Mulls has also been poor. White goods have shown an easier tendency. Shirtings have declined by eight annas per piece and standard qualities of white Mulls have shown a reduction of four to eight annas per piece. A lot of thirty-five cases of 58 inches by 20 yards Red End Mulls of a well-known chop has been sold in teh bazaar in small lot sto different dealers at Rs. 12-8-0 per piece for forward delivery. Nainsooks have declined by an anna per piece.

Local mill cloths have been in fair demand. Sheetings have fetched Rs. 1-8 to Rs. 1-9 and Longcloths Rs. 1-11 to Rs. 1-12 per lb. Large sales have been made in fancies.

The quotations for the leading chops of Greys and Whites are as under :—

Never Neglect a Wound or Sore

THE ONLY REAL SAFEGUARD AGAINST ECZEMA, ULCERS, & BLOOD-POISON.

MANY people, who would not dream of neglecting to get a bottle of medicine if they were ill, regard with indifference anything the matter with their skins. The folly of such neglect is clear from the fact that the skin, being the most exposed part of the human frame, is particularly liable to trouble by reason of the thousands of disease-germs that try and swarm into the tiniest cut, and by reason of other influences that provoke rashes, eczema, ringworm, and even worse afflictions.

Many a little rough patch on the chest or limbs turns to eczema through being pooh-poohed; and many a simple cut from the bread-knife, or begins the tortures and perils of blood-poison for want of a little simple attention right off.

Keep always handy at home a box of Zam-Buk, one application of which will preserve the skin from untold perils. There is a wonderful affinity between Zam-Buk and the skin. The rich herbal juices of which this precious balm is made sink into the pores of the skin, attack and destroy any disease-germs lodging in the flesh, and then help to stimulate the skin's functions back again to their normal activity.

Eczema, ringworm, ulcers, running sores, scalp trouble, piles, chapped hands, and blood-poison are often aggravated by neglect or by wrong treatment with ordinary ointments; but no case is too severe or too chronic to be beyond Zam-Buk's beneficial aid. Zam-Buk has the life-long gratitude of thousands of mothers for rescuing them from leg ulcers and apparently hopeless lameness, as well as for reclaiming their loved ones from the disfigurement of ringworm and head sores.

All Chemists, Bazaars, etc., sell Zam-Buk at One Rupee or Rs. 2-4. By post for Re. 1-4 or Rs. 2-8 from Zam-Buk Co., 9, Dalhousie Sq., Calcutta; Messrs. Kemp & Co., Bombay; or Messrs. Glen & Co., Ltd., Arbuthnot Lane, Madras. Z. 235
